History of the U. P. Church of Cedarville, Ohio

REV. F. O. ROSE.

Of the living sons of the congregation, we find the following creditable list arranged in the order of their ages, and all except the first named are in the active ministry:

Rev. William Alexander Pollock, son of John and Mary Jackson Caldwell Pollock, was born at Cedarville, Nov. 10, 1825; connected with the congregation by profession of faith in Christ on May 20, 1845; was graduated at Franklin College in 1852, and studied theology at Oxford; was licensed in April, 1857, by First Ohio Presbytery and ordained Nov. 17, 1858, by First Illinois; was pastor at Chester, Ill., from Nov. 17, 1858, to June, 1861; was principal of Richland Academy, Ind., from 1861 to 1865; was installed over Vinton and Pratt Creek, Iowa, in Nov. 1865, was released from the former in June, 1866, and from the latter March 21, 1872; was pastor at Andrew and Bethel, Iowa, from June 29, 1877, to Feb. 4, 1879; was stated supply at Mission Creek, Neb., in 1876-6, and was dismissed to the Presbyterian Church, Oct. 4, 1881. After this date he engaged in home missionary work in Nebraska. For some time he was located at Axtell, then later at Ragan, and finally at Wilsonville and Lebanon. At present he is living in retirement at the home of his youngest daughter at Hansen, Nebraska. He has one son in the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church, and as he is the only ministerial grandson of this congregation, the sketch of his life is inserted here in connection with that of his father.

Rev. John Samuel Pollock, son of Wm. A. and Nancy M. Holmes Pollock, was born at Pratt Creek, Iowa, Dec. 14, 1870. He received his early education at Andrew, Iowa, graduated at the Clarence, Iowa, High School in 1888 and received his collegiate education at Monmouth College, where he graduated in June, 1892. He entered Xenia Theological Seminary September, 1894, and graduated from that institution in April, 1897. He was licensed by Chicago Presbytery May 7, 1896, and ordained and installed as pastor of the Wilsonville, Neb., congregation by Pawnee Presbytery on Sept. 21, 1897, having begun work there June 27, 1897; was released from that pastorate on June 2, 1901, and installed pastor of Clinton, Iowa, congregation, by Cedar Rapids Presbytery on Sept. 30, 1901, where he still remains. He began his work there July 7, 1901.

Rev. Joshua R. Kyle, son of Samuel and Rachel Kyle, was born about one mile south of Cedarville, on August 2, 1834, and grew up on the farm. He united with the congregation on profession of faith in Christ on Aug. 8, 1853. In September, 1852, he entered the Grove school, being a classmate with his cousin, Hugh Parks Jackson. Together they remained there about four years, when they entered Miami University in 1856, being classified as Sophomores. They graduated from that institution in June, 1859. Mr. Kyle entered Xenia Theological Seminary in November of that year and graduated from there in March, 1863. He was licensed in March, 1862, by Xenia Presbytery, and during the following summer and after his graduation filled appointments in various Presbyteries. In July, 1864, he was sent to St. Louis to establish a Second church there and was ordained by St. Louis Presbytery on Oct. 12, 1864. He remained there about two years. In January, 1867, he was sent to supply the U. P. Church of Fall River, Mass. He shortly afterward received a call from that church, which he accepted, and began his pastoral work there in April, 1867, and was installed June 27, 1867. He remained there until September 7, 1876, when he resigned. He received a call from the Second Church, Pittsburgh, Pa., in August, 1876, which he accepted, and was installed Nov. 12, 1876, and remained there until September 30, 1879. In December, 1880, he received a call from the First Dutch Reformed Church of Amsterdam, N. Y., and was installed pastor on Jan. 6, 1881, and has remained pastor of that large and flourishing congregation ever since. He says: "I think few ministers have been accorded more pleasant pastorates than mine has been and continues to be."

Rev. Hugh Parks Jackson, son of David and Nancy Nichol Jackson, was born April 18, 1836, at Cedarville, Ohio; made a profession of faith in Christ in connection with the Cedarville congregation on March 31, 1856; was graduated at Miami University in 1859, and studied theology at Xenia and Allegheny, graduating from the latter place in 1865. He was licensed March 28, 1865, by Xenia Presbytery, and ordained and installed pastor of the Waterford, Pa., United Presbyterian church on Dec. 19, 1865, by the Lake Presbytery; was pastor of Waterford until Sept. 19, 1869, when he was released on account of impaired health, and removed to the old homestead near Cedarville and lived there for five years; was superintendent of schools at Cedarville from 1872 to 1875. He was installed April 12, 1876, as pastor of Carmel congregation in Jefferson Co., Ind., by Indiana Presbytery and was released from that charge on Sept. 4, 1889; was stated supply of Greenfield and Fall Creek, Ohio, from 1890 to 1892; was installed pastor of Kirkwood, Ill., by Monmouth Presbytery on Jan. 20, 1893, and released August 29, 1894; was installed pastor of Chariton and Lacona congregations in Iowa by Des Moines Presbytery on March 11 over the former, and on March 12, 1895, over the latter congregation. He was released from the latter in 1896 and from the former on June 14, 1898; was installed pastor of Olney, Ill., congregation by Monmouth Presbytery on August 9, 1898, where he is still located.

He is a born historian and revels in historical research. He is the author of, and has published a "History of the Waterford, Pa., Congregation" (His first charge), 32 pp., 1869; "History of the Carmel, Ind., Congregation" (His second charge) 23 pp., 1882, and a "Genealogy of the Jackson Family, 1724 pp., 1890, besides a great number of fugitive newspaper articles of a reminiscent and historical character. He has also displayed considerable talent as a poet and musical composer.

HOW BONNER WON SUCCESS

The career of Robert Bonner, the veteran publisher, furnishes a signal illustration of the value of persistent and sagacious advertising. When he began the publication of the paper whose phenomenal success brought him fame and fortune, he did not wait for the people to find out, slowly and gradually, the interesting features of his journal.

He forced his enterprise upon public attention by a systematic invasions of expensiveness for advertising which at that time was without precedent or parallel. Whole pages of daily newspapers were secured at high prices to discuss forth the merits of his undertaking.

From one end of the country to the other the names of Bonner and his Ledger were made familiar to the people by constant repetition.

Conservative publishers, joggling along in the rut of old routine, prophesied bankruptcy and ruin for this unconventional innovator, but Bonner kept on spending a large share of his receipts in buying publicity, and those receipts increased with startling rapidity.

Every dollar disbursed in this way brought in more dollars until croakers were confounded and pessimists in this particular branch of business silenced by his tremendous success.

The lesson is one that is as well worth heeding today as it was forty years ago. Philadelphia Bulletin.

THE FIRST MEETING.

The first of a series of dances was given by a dancing club Wednesday evening in Barber's hall. The room has undergone repairs, been brightened up by new paper and fresh paint and lighted with electricity and presents a very attractive appearance. The evening was one of the most enjoyable ever spent by a Cedarville crowd, and from a social standpoint was a perfect success. Not only was this gathering the most pleasant but it was the largest perhaps that ever assembled on the floor in Cedarville, there being about thirty-five couples present. The gathering was what is termed a mixed crowd, something unavoidable from the number present for a town of this size. During the evening a number of spectators, and parents of the young people called and watched with interest the young people as they revelled in the pleasure of terpsichorean art.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the eminent harpist, Rigio, and his three sons, of Springfield. The twenty-five numbers on the program were repeatedly enquired and in several instances two or three times. The following were the numbers on the program: Grand March, East High School March; Two-step, A. Frangese; Waltz, Sweet Anna Morse; Two-step, Mr. Dooley; Waltz, Circle Under the Shade of the Palm, Florida Opera; Two-step, Sammy Wizard of Oz; Waltz, Strollers We, Opera; Two-step Circle, Runaway Girl, Opera; Schottische, Mirror Dance; Waltz, Ladies' Choice, Lilly of the Nile; Quadrille, Mosquito's Parade; Waltz, Calanther; Intermission. Two-step, Blaze Away; Schottische, Dance of the Brownies; Waltz, I Am Tired (Strollers); Two-step Circle, Tale of the Bumble Bee, (King Dodo); Waltz, Selected; Polka, Selected; Two-step, Ladies' Choice, Josephine My Joe; Waltz, Barbara Fretche; Schottische Selected; Two-step, Turkey and the Straw; Waltz Circle; Strollers, Selections; Two-step, Commonwealth March; Home Sweet Home, Waltz.

The following out of town people were present: Misses McCreight, Paulina (Ruth and Bertha), Shelly Crain, Messrs. Thurman, Jenks, Oglesbee, Galvin and Penney, of Jamestown; Misses Redfern, King and Long, and Mrs. Oliver Dodds, of Xenia, and Miss Ada Luckey, of South Charleston.

DESERVES ELECTION.

While in conversation with Deputy Sheriff Rupert of Clark county the first of the week he spoke very highly of Mr. F. T. Tarbox, candidate for Sheriff of this county. Mr. Rupert is of the opinion that if ever a deputy sheriff deserved the office for the hard work that had been performed and hardships endured, Mr. Tarbox certainly is entitled to it. He says that sheriffs and deputies in counties adjoining were greatly pleased to hear that Mr. Tarbox had been nominated and now they are awaiting his election. The above is given to show the interest taken by outsiders in the election of Mr. Tarbox to the office of Sheriff. He is popular not only in his home town but wherever he is known.

Dr. Furbay speaks with logic, eloquence and pathos. By his rare descriptive powers, enriched by the treasures of poetry, history and the tragedy of life, carries his hearers to the goal of conviction. Rev. Samuel N. Wilson, Pastor Walnut Street Presbyterian Church, Evansville, Ind.

A NATAL DAY.

Monday, October 27, was a natal day of a trio of distinguished Americans; President Roosevelt, Hon. Whitelaw Reid and ex-Secretary of the Navy John D. Long. It is seldom, indeed, that such a distinguished trio celebrates a birthday anniversary simultaneously. These men have carved places for themselves in American history, and anything pertaining to their lives is, of course, interesting to their fellow countrymen. The Times-Star has the following to say of the Hon. Whitelaw Reid: "Hon. Whitelaw Reid is sixty-five years of age. He is an Ohioan. He was born at Cedarville, Greene county. He ran for Vice President with Harrison in 1892 and was defeated. He twice declined the ministry to Germany, was a member of the Peace commission of 1898 that closed the Spanish-American war. He was special envoy from this country to Queen Victoria's jubilee in 1897 and was the head of the American embassy to the coronation of Edward VII, king of England. He is the distinguished editor of the New York Tribune."

A GOOD GAME.

The best game of foot-ball ever played in Cedarville was played last Saturday between the college team and the Springfield high school, the score being 5 to 0 in favor of the home boys. During the first half neither side could score but the college boys had by far the best of it, as they were able to hold their own territory. During the second half the Springfield boys succeeded in getting the ball across the line on their territory but they could not hold their ground. The interference on the part of the home team, with the hard work on the line, gave the boys every advantage. The team was coached under the direction of James Scarff, of South Charleston, and his services were much appreciated by the boys. The weather was ideal for spectators, but for the team it was rather warm. Collins kicked for goal, but failed, owing to the strong wind.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cedarville Telephone company was held at the hotel Tuesday. The following gentlemen were elected on the board of directors: D. Bradfute, O. E. Bradfute, J. C. McMillan, J. H. Andrew and W. B. Stevenson. The following officers were chosen: President, D. Bradfute; vice president, J. H. Andrew; secretary, J. C. McMillan; treasurer, O. E. Bradfute; local manager, F. B. Turnbull. At present the company is constructing a new line east of town on the Creswell road that will have some four or five subscribers. Several other lines are being projected in territory that is yet unoccupied. The company reports some 250 subscribers at present.

The Jamestown Press had the following to say in regard to Dr. Furbay's lecture: "From the standpoint of sentiment Dr. Furbay's lecture on 'Christ and My Country,' is very strong, and appeals to every patriotic impulse. Dr. Furbay's word painting is beautiful."

The last of the season's Sunday excursions to Cincinnati via Pennsylvania Lines will be run next Sunday, November 2nd. Special train leaves Cedarville at 9:00 a. m., central time. Round trip rate $1.25.

The Foot-prints of Civilization in Cedarville Township, Ohio.

By Senex.
The bear disappears with a growl, the wild panther with a scream. The deer lifts its head with a snuff, and wonders what all may mean. 'Tis the twilight of civilization, a change that tells of much toil. The coming now of the white man to cultivate the soil: It's the story of a hundred years, the work of great brawn and brain, And tells of labor and sacrifice to produce the golden grain. Thus one by one these giant oaks fell crashing with a boom, And axe-men multiplied each year, which told the final doom Of the rendezvous and sylvan-home of the deer and buffalo, Which had roamed these hills and valleys from the years of long ago. To bring this light and these changes, to clear up the vale and the hill, Took a courage truly heroic in men of an iron will. For there was a wilderness of forests, there were trees both great and small, And the task to fell these giants that were large and very tall, Required a skillful axe-man with endurance scarce divine. But it was in fact accomplished by your father's sire and mine. Their implements of culture were homely, strong, and crude, The axe, the saw, the sickle, and the log-chains multitude, The rake, the hoe, the log-sled, the soythe, the adz, and plane, The auger, square, and cross-cut, to sever the logs in twain, The flail to thresh the cereal, the home-made wooden plows, The bells upon the horses, and also on the cows, The wagon, strong and heavy with its schooner, boat-like bed, The home-made flaxen garments, the milliner's gear for head, The swifts, and loom, and hackles, the flax-break and the reel, The scutching-knife, and knitting-needle, and the wooden spinning-wheel, They had bees for fun and frolic, they had huskings, quiltings too, Large gatherings for the log-roll in this country all so new; Their home was a humble cabin made of logs and clap-boards broad, Inlaid with puncheon flooring, or the bare and level sod; In this cabin a loft and window, a latch-string in the door, A cradle, trundle-bed, old bureau, but no carpet on the floor; A fire-place wide and spacious with a crane to swing the kettle, For the frying and boiling too were in vessels made of metal, Theirs a life of toil and labor, but it brought to them a pleasure, As they worked 'mid stumps and tree-tops for their food and earthly treasure.

DISH SHOWER.

The ladies of the R. P. church gave a dish shower Wednesday afternoon in their rooms in the new church. Refreshments were served to about one hundred and fifty. The ladies were the recipients of many dishes, the usefulness and beauty of which far surpassed their expectations. The afternoon was delightful and the guests were served as they arrived. Thus at no time were there any great number present. As the ladies were so successful with their shower, Mr. J. D. Williamson has proffered to donate a range for use in the kitchen.

OBITUARY.

Isabelle Turnbull, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Kyle Turnbull, was born at Cedarville, Ohio, Sept. 26, 1839. She had one brother and two sisters, of whom only one sister, Mrs. Winter survives her. Her father died while she was but a child and she with her mother made their home a short distance west of Cedarville until Dec. 1883 when they removed to the home of the daughter and sister, Mrs. Dr. A. Winter, where she lived until her death which occurred Oct. 29, 1902.

She had been a sufferer for about eight years with a cancer and bore her suffering with patience and fortitude, carefully concealing her condition from her friends, lest it might cause them trouble and anxiety.

She made a profession of her faith in Christ and connected with the United Presbyterian Church of Cedarville on March 31, 1856, with which she has held her membership continuously to her death. There are only six persons who have held a membership in the congregation longer than the deceased. She adorned her profession with a quiet spirit and gentle disposition. She was loyal to her church although denied the privilege of attendance at public worship because of the peculiar nature of her malady, maintaining her interest and support as long as she lived.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. F. O. Rose, at the home of her sister Mrs. Winter, this afternoon, and the interment was made in the Cedarville Cemetery. Subscribe for the Herald.

There are few but that will recall the incident last summer in which Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt entertained several hundred of her friends in the most extraordinary manner at her summer home in fashionable Newport.

"The Wild Rose", a comic opera, was taken from the Knickerbocker theater of New York and by special train the company was transported to Newport where Mrs. Vanderbilt's guests were entertained from a stage erected at her residence for the occasion. After the entertainment the several hundred guests with the company, numbering over one hundred persons, were entertained at a dinner that cost quite a bit in the "400." The cost of the entertainment is said to have reached the enormous sum of $250,000. This same company appears at the Victoria, Dayton, Wednesday, November 6th.

"The Wild Rose", a comic opera, was taken from the Knickerbocker theater of New York and by special train the company was transported to Newport where Mrs. Vanderbilt's guests were entertained from a stage erected at her residence for the occasion. After the entertainment the several hundred guests with the company, numbering over one hundred persons, were entertained at a dinner that cost quite a bit in the "400." The cost of the entertainment is said to have reached the enormous sum of $250,000. This same company appears at the Victoria, Dayton, Wednesday, November 6th.

BOUND TO FREE SILVER.

Endorsed by Every Vote For the Cedar Point Platform.

No one need wonder that the Democrats, thousands of them throughout Ohio and everywhere else, who have learned by the logic of facts in the business developments of the day, the utter absurdity of the Bryanite 16 to 1 silver assertions, have turned against that humbug altogether. Last year that element controlled the Ohio Democracy sufficiently to drop the silver theory out of their platform. This, however, was short lived. This year the same old song is sung once more, and free-silver is to the front.

Tom Johnson's Cedar Point platform binds every individual Democrat to loyalty to the delusion. Johnson, himself, pretends to oppose it, and yet to be loyal to Bryan. He brought Bryan into Ohio to endorse him, and Bryan's paper has boasted Johnson, and proclaimed continually that a Johnson victory in Ohio will be a Bryanite triumph.

The Cedar Point platform says that, "We, the Democrats of Ohio, on national issues reaffirm and endorse the principles laid down in its last national platform adopted at Kansas City." That there may not be the least shadow of a chance for any self-respecting anti-silver man to stand upon this platform the Cedar Point Democrats further declare that, "We condemn every effort to repudiate or ignore them;" that is, the Kansas City principles, 16 to 1 silver, and everything else in that amazing declaration.

Rubbing it in on the anti-silver Democrats "the Democratic paper of Ohio," the only one endorsed by Johnson, declares that the Kansas City platform "needs nothing added to it, nor anything taken from it." It denounces the Ohio Democratic action of last year, talks of it as "reactionary" and a "retrograde movement" and "apostasy." Last year's platform is characterized as a wrong, and a blunder and an error, and the party is told that it was "led astray by false guides."

After all this, the same Johnson organ asks the support of all such Democrats, although Johnson himself has added to the Democratic platform his own personal fads of absolute free trade, and the single land tax, and will claim to their credit every Democratic vote in Ohio this year. Will the anti-silver men sell themselves completely?

Tom Johnson is doing some good after all. He is making votes for the Republicans. There are honest Democrats who refuse to be longer identified with a party that exalts such a man to a position of leadership.

Tom Johnson's idea of land ownership is that the government should possess all the land and rent it to the people, doing away with the independent farmer life in America. It won't work, Tom—Greenville Courier.

The Democrats, with their usual shortsightedness and stupidity, have placed the blame of the great coal strike on the Republican party. It logically follows that the grand old party should have the credit of settling it.

Hogs $7.35, corn 40c—Republican administration. Hogs $2.35, corn 35c—Democratic administration. The Democratic free trade price of corn in 1896 was 18 cents per 100 pounds. The Republican protection price of corn now is 40 cents per 100 pounds. Farmers, which do you like best? Which party should you support?—Pandering Republican.

Have you observed that the manner of defense of Johnson by Democrats is to declare that he is not running for anything? Why, hush their souls, he is doing all the running. He's the whole thing and to the bottom. The people fully realize this fact and will vote accordingly. —Wyandot Republican.

POLITICAL

Some comment has been made about the salary and fees paid to Marcus Shoup, ex-Prosecuting Attorney of Greene county. Below is given an exact statement taken from the Auditor's books and certified to by John H. McPherson, Auditor of Greene county.

We are also credibly informed by able attorneys that at least $1,500 has been illegally drawn from the County Treasury. It is certain that of the monthly salary $49.70 there have been paid to Mr. Shoup in six years 73 monthly payments, when there should only be 72 draws or 12 times a year. Each voucher has been carefully gone over and there is no mistake as to the double draw. It is a fact positive and undeniable.

The Auditor is the book-keeper of the county. Every dollar paid out of the County Treasury must be shown on the Auditor's books. A receipt is signed in the Auditor's office before a warrant is issued, then, when the warrant is issued, it is taken to the Treasurer's office for payment.

The Treasurer, after payment, makes a record of the amount paid out, which corresponds to the Auditor's books in every respect. So if the Auditor's books show vouchers for $12,404.90 received during his six years in office the Treasurer's books will show exactly the same. Anyone claiming that the Auditor's and Treasurer's books are different, makes the claim either through ignorance or for the purpose of misleading others who do not know.

The Auditor's books are public property and open to the inspection of anyone. In order that no one need be deceived, let him examine these books for himself.

The following fees and salary were paid to Marcus Shoup:

For 1st year.....	$1246.70
" 2d ".....	1793.62
" 3rd ".....	1877.38
" 4th ".....	2038.83
